Annual banking statistics for 2021

Expansion of data offering

The Swiss National Bank has today published data on the annual financial statements of banks in Switzerland for the 2021 financial year. For the first time, the published data also comprises bank office data (Domestic office perspective) in addition to the data from individual financial statements (Parent company perspective) and consolidated financial statements (Group perspective).

The Domestic office perspective shows data on the business of banks including their branches in Switzerland (cf. Explanatory video 'Perspectives on banking statistics'). These data are particularly relevant in the context of the national accounts. For example, the SNB uses the data when compiling the balance of payments and the Swiss financial accounts.
